Spot the coloured car

Each person has to pick a colour, then each person has to count as many cars as possible in their chosen colour. You can play for a given time (for example 20 minutes) or an amount of cars picked (say 50 cars). The winner is the first person to reach 100 coloured cars spotted in their colour. Select your coloured car from below or choose your own colour.

Alphabet number plates

By looking at passing car number plates, you need to look for first the letter of the alphabet starting from A, then on the next car the letter B and so on. You cannot have two letters from the same car. The letters are listed below. (See example).

The winner of the game is the first person to complete the alphabet first.

The word game

Somebody starts a story by saying just one word and then everybody takes a turn adding the next word to the story as quickly as they can, until somebody stalls too long trying to think of the next word.

Winner

One to one hundred

Find every number from one to one hundred, outside the car. Everybody can help to find the numbers, calling them out as they see them on any type of sign or license plate. If you reach one hundred quickly, see how much higher you can go.
